

45 Years

It's been forty-five years,
Since we said, "I do."
Joining our lives,
With passionate hearts,
And a love that was true,
Though young and naive,
We worked our way through,
Some difficult times,
But we learned and we grew,
Much closer together,
With each passing day,
In every manner,
And in every way,
What the future may hold,
Surely no one can say,
But we'll get there together,
Hand in hand through each day,
Because I just can't imagine,
Not doing it that way.
